Good Morning! It's Zia from class 851 here for Words of Wisdom Wednesday on behalf of the S.E.A.L. Team.

Today, I want to give a big shout out to all our science and music teachers. Thank you guys so much for teaching us.

Music is a huge part of us, it's everywhere, whether it's performed at concerts or just out in the neighborhood, music is all around us. Yet, it's also here in school, where our teachers can help us embrace it even more, so thank you to all our fantastic music and band teachers for encouraging that.

We also use science every day. With science, we are knowledgeable about the natural world, we come up with new ideas and invent things, and the things we do on a daily basis also relate to science. Like, walking, thinking and doing the things we do. So another big round of applause to our amazing science teachers for showing the way through the world of science.

As we go about our day, let's find the time to stop and thank our wonderful teachers for helping, teaching, and guiding us.

Thanks for listening and have a We Appreciate All Our Science and Music Teachers Wednesday!

Affirmation of the Day: I will be a reliable friend, supporting and encouraging others.
