

April 9, 2024

Good morning! It's Chloe from 751 and I'm here this Thoughtful Thursday on behalf of the S.E.A.L Team.

Were you aware that April 9th is National Winston Churchill's Day? This day is important because it celebrates the life and contributions of renowned British statesman Sir Winston Churchill, who was instrumental in the Second World War. Throughout this difficult period, Churchill's bravery and leadership inspired both his nation and the rest of the world.

His Resilience, strong leadership, and standing up for what is right are all important lessons taught and learned by Winston Churchill. Some of Churchill's examples that you can imply in your daily life are integrity, perseverance as integrity and perseverance are important qualities to have in life. Having Integrity means being honest and doing the right thing even when no one is watching. It helps you build trust and respect with teachers, classmates and friends. Perseverance is the ability to keep going even when things get tough. It helps you overcome challenges and reach your goals. And lastly the ability to draw forward even when you come face to face with your own challenges no matter what comes your way.

Thanks for listening have a Take Charge Tuesday 😊
