Hello! My name is Irene Q from class 731 and I am here speaking to you for this Thoughtful Thursday.

As you may know, this month is Hispanic Heritage month but, did you know that it's also national pizza month? Yeah, that's right there's a whole month for pizza! Who doesn't like pizza? Pizza has been here for an incredibly long time, going back in time to ancient times in the Middle east. The Babylonians (ba bah low nee uhnz) Greeks, Egyptians, Armenians (are mean eans), and Israelis (Is ray lease) all had some type of pizza. Yeah contrary to popular belief, it didn't originate from Italy! While on that note, this month you should go to a local pizza joint (or make it at home) and try some new types of pizza whether it be deep dish, with pineapple, or square.

Let's end it off by reciting the S.E.A.L team cheer!

SEAL Team pledge:

We are the Dyker S.E.A.L. Team
